The screenshot shows the Muzli browser extension homepage. It features a large, colorful illustration of a DNA helix and several floating web pages. The main headline reads "SO MUCH MORE AMAZING CONTENT". Below it, a sub-headline says: "Join over 200,000 others who enjoy Muzli new tab extension. Muzli is a goldmine of inspiring, beautiful & fresh content, stunningly delivered every time you open up a new tab." A red button at the bottom left says "Stay inspired with Muzli". At the bottom, there are tabs for "Design", "Inspiration", "Creativity", "UI", and "UX".

The screenshot shows a social media profile for "Muzli". The profile picture is a green circle with a white 'm'. The bio says "Medium member since Apr 2017" and "The best design inspiration — expertly curated, exactly to your taste.". To the right, there is a post from "Muzli - Design Inspiration" with the title "All the design inspiration you need. It's like crack for designers. And good for you too! #design #ux #ui #inspiration #creativity #art #startup". The post has 4.4K claps and a "Follow" button.

The screenshot shows a blog post card from the Muzli website. The title is "Two Fundamental Approaches to Designing UX". Below it, there is a thumbnail of colored pencils. The post has 1.6K views and a "Follow" button. To the right, there are two more cards: one titled "Optical Effects in User Interfaces: An Illustrated Guide" and another titled "Creating a UI Component Design System (step-by-step guide)". Both have similar stats and "Follow" buttons.
